Vesuvius Causes Terror.

The hope that Mount Vesuvius was becoming calm was dissipated yesterday, when the volcano became more active than ever. The panic has spread to Naples. Two strong earthquake shocks which shattered windows and cracked the walls of buildings were experienced yesterday. The entire population rushed to the streets in terror, many persons crying: "The Madoonna has forsaken us; the end of the world has come." No trace remains of Boscotrecase, a commune on the southern declivity of the mountain, where up to 48 hours ago 10,000 persons lived; and Terre Annunziata, on the shores of the Gulf of Naples, one mile to the southward, is almost surrounded by the invading lava, and has been evacuated by its 30,000 inhabitants. The people were carried to Naples by trains, street cars, military carts and steamships. Similar means of transportation are being employed to bring away the people from Torre Del Greco. The police and carbineers are guarding the abandoned houses, and several members of the government also are there.

A telegram received from the mayor of San Sebastino, a village near the observatory on the northwest declivity of Vesuvius, says the lava is approaching rapidly, and that the people are terror-stricken. They have been for nights without sleep, he says, are destitute and beg that assistance be given them.

The work of succor is hampered, owing to delays to the railway service, which is interrupted by red-hot stones, thrown to a height of 3,000 feet, falling on the tracks.

As yet it is impossible to count the craters that have opened and from which streams of lava have flooded the beautiful, prosperous and happy land lying on the southeast shores of the Gulf of Naples.

The atmosphere is heavily charged with electricity and now and then the flashes of lightning are blinding, while the detonation from the volcano resemble those of terrible explosions.

The churches of Naples were open all Saturday night and were crowded with panic stricken people. Members of the clergy are doing their utmost to calm their fears, but the effects of their arguments go almost for naught when renewed earthquake shocks are experienced.

With the danger and horror of the situation aside, Vesuvius presents one of the most splendid sights imaginable. The mountain of fire, whose speech is by detonation and whose acts are destruction, seems like an enraged giant determined to make the pigmies of earth feel the might of his wrath. Here and there on the mountain side stand the blasted trunks of pine trees, their bare branches outstretched as though in protest against the devastation the volcano has wrought.

Prisoners in jail on the mountainside went mad with terror and mutinied, and were only partially quieted by being taken to Venice. But their fears have been communicated to the prisoners there who may rebel at any moment. The situation is critical.

Breathing is momentarily becoming more difficult because of the poisonous fumes and smoke, while the hot ashes which are still falling tend to make life a burden.

Contrary to expectations, the sea has not yet shown signs of being affected by the phenomena, but fears are entertained that tidal waves may yet come, and many craft been put to sea. Visitors to Naples are avoiding the hotels on the sea front, and the people living there are beginning to leave for higher altitudes.

Though there is much misery, up to the present time there have been no fatalities, except at Portici, where an old woman died, supposedly from freight.

English Mason Who Betrayed His Friend.

The betrayal of a Freemason by his friend and fellow-Mason was described Friday in the divorce court during the trial of the suit by Mr. Thomas Leigh, an ironmonger, of Whitney, in Oxfordshire, for divorce on the ground of his wife's conduct with Mr. Frank French, who is also an ironmonger. Mr. French, it was stated, is a modern Dick Whittington. He went to Whitney as an assistant, married his master's daughter and succeeded to the business. Mr. and Mrs. Leigh were married in 1896, and lived happily together until April last, when Mr. Leigh heard that his wife, was receiving visits from a man on Friday evenings, when he was absent at choir practice. On April 28, instead of going to choir practice, he watched his house, and saw a man enter. He then tried the front and back doors and found them both locked, and on peeping through a window he was much surprised to recognize in his wife's visitor his friend, Mr. French. Mr. Leigh said nothing to his wife, but went to Bournemouth and told his story to his mother-in-law. He returned with his wife's brother, and in his presence Mrs. Leigh signed a confession that she had been guilty of misconduct with Mr. French. The suit Saturday was undefended, and the jury assessed the damages against Mr. French at $2,000. A decree nisi with costs, was granted, and Sir Gorell Barnes, in addressing the jury, said:

"This particular class of case is the worst kind of case this court has to deal with. The co-respondent has not only been guilty of immorality, but it breaks a man's faith in his fellow-men when his friend turns round on him and seduces his wife.

'It shatters a man's confidence in life. No greater wrong can be committed by a man than to betray the trust placed in him by his friend."

A Love Tragedy.

A sensational love tragedy is reported from the Austrian naval station at Pola. Herr Schloss, a tradesman in the town, suspected his wife of infidelity and to put his opinion to the test told her that he was going away on business for a few days. He returned home unexpectedly the same evening, saying that he had missed his train, and found his wife alone. But after retiring for the night he heard a knock at the front door, and, going downstairs, found Lieutenant Kohler, whom he had suspected, outside. There was a violent altercation, and when Frau Schloss took part against her husband he struck her in the face. The Lieutenant thereupon drew his sword and attacked Herr Schloss so furiously that he had to escape by jumping out of the first-floor window, injuring himself severely. His wife and her lover went to the Lieutenant's quarters, in which early in the morning several shots were heard. When the door was burst open it was found that Lieutenant Kohler had shot the woman dead and had wounded himself severely in an attempt to take his own life.

Alexandria Gazette AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

MONDAY EVENING, APRIL 9, 1906.

AS STATED in the Gazette of that day the Moroccan convention was signed at Algeciras, Spain, on Saturday, and the conference adjourned sine die. The Alcalde and other municipal officials of Algeciras bade farewell to the delegates, who were most pleased at their work being ended. The net result of the international conference on Morocco is understood to be a plain give and take compromise. Although Germany has headed off France from her expected commercial and political supremacy in Morocco, France still retains her fair share of that field of enterprize, and emerges from the contest with Great Britain a stronger ally than ever. To break this entente was believed to be the particular object of Emperor William. Germany has established her right to a voice in controlling the destiny of weaker states, but in this controversy disclosed the fact that every State of Europe except Austria stood against her. As to the policing of Moroccan ports, the arrangement is for Spain to look after Tetuan and Larache, while a mixed French and Spanish police will control Casa Blanca and Tangier, and the French alone will have charge of four Atlantic ports. This arrangement is to exist for five years. As to the Morocco Bank, France is to have three shares and the other nations one share each, while four supervisors will be appointed by the Banks of England, Germany, France and Spain.

THE WIFE of the retiring American Ambassador at Vienna, Bellamy Storer, has formally denied the report that she had abused President Roosevelt's confidence in connection with the letter indorsing Archbishop Ireland. She says that the letter was written when Mr. Roosevelt was Governor of New York in 1900. It stated his opinion that Ireland represents "the type of Catholicism which must prevail in the United States if the Catholic Church is to attain its full measure of power and usefulness with our people and our form of government.". Mrs. Storer in an interview in Vienna, Saturday, said:

Of course, the letter written to me by Mr. Roosevelt six years ago, lauding Ireland, was intended for use in Rome. Cardinal Rampolla then was papal secretary of state. I deemed it avisable to let Rome know how high Ireland stood in the estimate of well-known Americans

MR. RAINEY of Illinois, succeeded in stirring up the House last Thursday by his story of tariff and trust methods in the watch trade. The watch and case factories are in a trust, and the tariff enables them to put a price of $75 on the best Waltham watch; dealers are under contract not to sell it in this country for less than $60. A New York dealer is buying this watch in England, bringing it back, and selling it in this country for $42.30. This, says the Philadelhia Record, is the interesting result of protecting the infant industry of manufacturing watches. And what is true of the watch industry applies with equal force to harvesting machines, sewing machines and many other kinds of machinery which are made in this country, sent abroad and sold much cheaper in a foreign country than they are at home.

THE following paragraphs are but straws showing what may be expected should there be a prolonged coal strike:

Reading, April 9.—Because of the suspension in the anthracite regions the Reading Railway car shops in this city will work but 55 hours a week.

Harrisburg, April 9.—The Pennsylvania Railroad has ordered out of service 28 heavy freight locomotives, which have been in constant use the past six months. The storing of these engines probably means that the company is preparing for a coal strike and a decrease in the amount of business.

Shamokin, Pa., April 9.—A number of Philadelphia and Reading railroad crews were laid off in this region today and roundhouse men were put on half time, on account of the coal suspension.

THE DOWNFALL of the republican control of Congress was prophesied by Representative Perkins, of New York, Saturday afternoon, during the discussion of the Postoffice appropriation bill in the House. "Good friends of the tariff have always desired that any changes in it should be made by the republican party," he said, "but it needs no prophet to see that if the republican party will not make any changes they will some day be made by those whose action will be less considerate, less friendly and less wise."

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, April 9.

General Grosvenor, chairman of the House committee on merchant marine and fisheries, announced this morning at the White House after a conference with the President that his committee would question the high officials of the United States Steel Corporation this week to ascertain the facts in regard to the selling of steel abroad at a cheaper price than is exacted of consumers in this country. Just what officials of the big corporation have been summoned or will be, General Grosvenor's was not at liberty to divulge. General Grosvenor's committee is now holding hearings on the ship subsidy bill. It is believed that the inquiry will be concluded by the end of the week, and General Grosvenor said that he believed that the bill would be reported out of committee soon after the conclusion of the hearings.

It is reported at the Capitol that the nomination of G. L. Hart for postmaster of Roanoke, Va., will be withdrawn owing to certain derogatory rumors concerning him, though no charges have been filed.

The streets were deserted today, and only those compelled to be out braved the rain and inclement weather. At the Capitol comparatively few members of either branch of Congress were in their seats and but few spectators were in the galleries. The House is killing time waiting for action by the Senate on the railroad rate bill, but the matter will drag along for some time yet.

Senator Berry, of Arkansas, was in his seat today for the first time since his defeat by Gov. Jeff Davis and was warmly welcomed by his colleagues on both sides of the chamber, all of whom seem to regret his defeat for re-election.

Robert G. Proctor, Secretary to State Senator, was arraigned in Boston this morning in the Superior Criminal Court, upon an indictment charging him with the larceny of $225, which John G. Bestgen, of Quincy, said he had given Proctor as a contribution to the campaign of 1906. He pleaded not guilty and was held in $500 for a hearing

Several of the nations are wrangling over a settlement of the dates for the three big international conferences, the tentative dates of which conflict.

Assistant Attorney General Melville, of Colorado, filed a motion in the Supreme Court of the United States today to dismiss or affirm the appeal of Senator Thomas M. Patterson, against the State of Colorado. The effect of this motion, if granted, will be to cause the early disposition of the Senator Patterson case. Senator Patterson was fined $1,000 by the Supreme Court of Colorado for an alleged contempt in having criticised the court in a newspaper of which he is publisher at Denver. He appealed from the order of punishment on constitutional grounds.

The revolution in Santo Domingo is over. Commander Southerland, the senior American naval officer at Monte Christi, Santo Domingo, reported by cable to the Navy Department under yesterday's date as follows: "Satisfactory settlement has been arrived at Samana Bay, Santo Domingo, by the efforts of Horacio Vesquez. Trouble is over. Forces withdrawn, all is quiet elsewhere. The Paducah (an American gunboat) is here"

The Comptroller of the Currency has issued a call for the reports of the condition of National Banks at the close of business on Friday April 6th.

President Roosevelt's office quarters will be located over James Moore's grocery store, in Oyster Bay, after the last week in June. The date of the President's departure for his home has not yet been decided upon, but it will be about the 25th or 26th of June. The office force will be practically the same as it was last year, with the exception of Assistant Secretary Barnes, who has been nominated for the Washington postmastership and who will therefore probably not be attached to the White House staff at the time the President takes his vacation.

The President today decided that he will deliver his speech on "The Man with the Muck Rake" at the laying of the corner stone of the new office building of the House of Representatives next Saturday afternoon, instead of at Norfolk on Decoration Day. He will take another topic on the latter occasion.

The Supreme Court of the United States today affirmed the decision of the Supreme Court of Illinois, holding that the West Chicago Street Railway Company must obey the city ordinance passed in 1900, ordering the company to lower its Van Buren street tunnel so as to permit a 21-foot ship channel in the Chicago river.

The President today nominated Lou's L. Whitestone to be postmaster at Culpeper, Va.

The rain of today considerably interfered with the races at Benning, notwithstanding which, however, a fair sized crowd was present.

Counsel for the States of Maryland and West Virginia appeared in the United States Supreme Court today and announced that a stipulation had been agreed to for the completion of the taking of deposition in the controversy between the States by August 1st. The suit involves a claim by Maryland that the true boundary between the States follows the south branch of the Potomac river and not the north branch.

Restoration of the Stadium.

When thousands assemble at Athens this month to witness the Olympic games they will find the ancient Stadium fully restored. The work of restoration began before the first of the revived games 10 years ago, and is said to have cost about $800,000.

In 1896 the ancient Greek games were revived at Athens, and while they were held in the hemicycle that had been the scene of glorious athletic victories 3,000 years ago the patched-up character of the Stadium, most of the seats in which then were of wood painted white, gave a very nineteenth-century flavor to the scene. However, more than 60,000 persons, all of them enthusiasts and representing practically every civilized country in the world, put up with this modernity and were charmed with the Old-World spirit which animated the occasion.

Fully restored, the dazzling white marble Stadium will seat 85,000 persons, and in this respect alone must be regarded as one of the wonders of the world. A Greek gentleman, M. George Averoff, defrayed the cost of the partial restoration 10 years ago when he subscribed 900,000 drachmas, equal to about $100,000. In recognition of his patriotism, a marble statue of the generous Greek has been erected.

The retored hemicycle is really considerably larger than it was originally. The arena is about 650 feet long and 135 feet broad. The regular length of the race course was 600 Greek feet, which was a trifle shorter than English feet.

More than 1,000 union journeymen painters and paper hangers, were called out on strike at Newark, N. J., today. Refusal of an increase of twenty-eight cents a day in wages, and the allowance of half holidays on Saturday is the basis of the strike.

A horrified crowd watched Mrs. S. Ives the wife of John Ives, leap to death from the fifth story window of her home, 918 east 156th street, New York, yesterday. The suicide is only accounted for by some sudden frenzied impulse. The young woman's husband was within a few feet of his wife when she jumped. She had called him from the rear of the flat to say good-bye as she plunged from the window ledge.

Mrs. W. R. Sherwood, aged twenty-five, of Mabel, Minn., came to life hours after being laid out for burial, and just before she was to have been embalmed. She was conscious the whole time of what was going on around her, but was without desire or ability to interfere. She had pneumonia. Early in the day doctors pronounced her dead, and friends laid her out. At 3 o'clock in the morning the watchers heard sounds in the room and rushed in just in time to see her arise with a shriek. Mrs. Sherwood was given prompt treatment and will probably recover.

M. P. Conference.

A most unusual and unexpected incident in the recent history of the Maryland Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church, the annual session of which is now being held in West Baltimore Church, occurred Saturday when Rev. A. C. Boyd, a former presiding elder of the Methodist Episcopal denomination, was admitted to the conference, and will be given a charge in the Maryland district. Rev. Mr. Boyd comes from Kansas City, Mo., and was connected with one of the western Methodist Episcopal conferences He is 42 years of age, and had been preaching for 18 years.

Affairs in Russia.

St. Petersburg, April 9.—The Slovo is authority for a statement that a new Russian 5 per cent. loan has been concluded. The issue price will be 89. It is stated that the Russian government threatened the French bankers who were appealed to for the loan that unless the money should be forthcoming it would divide the land of Russia among the peasants.

The liberal newspapers of the city have been appealing to France to refuse the proposed new loan on the ground that it will ruin Russian liberties.

The overwhelming victory won by the liberals in the provinces in the elections have astonished everyone. It is stated that Premier Witte has been greatly excited by the outcome of the elections, and that he has offered M. Kutler, who recently resigned from the cabinet, the position of Minister of Commerce

New York Stock Market.

New York, April 9.—Money was the all-absorbing factor of interest in the stock market so far today. Money opened at 22 per cent. There is a comparatively large supply offered now at 22 per cent., but with any calling of loans it would be easy to exhaust this supply. The trading element is disposed to buy stocks on a small scale on a belief that relief must come from some source, as an increased supply of funds is an imperative necessity. Gossip in the board was mixed. There were very little commission business and London was not a factor either way.

Today's Telegraphic News

The Eruption of Vesuvius.

Naples, April 9.—The eruption of Vesuvius is becoming increasingly alarming. The inhabitants of Naples are fleeing from the city in large numbers and are going towards Rome. Cinders from the fiery mountain have fallen in some places to the depth of three feet, stopping all street traffic and paralyzing business. The sufferings of the poor are appalling.

The villages of Ottajano and Poggiomarino, at the foot of Vesuvius, and only a short distance from Naples, have been absolutely destroyed. Many inhabitants of these villages perished, and none of them escaped without injuries more or less serious. The captains of four English steamers now in the harbor of Naples have offered their ships to the Italian authorities to shelter the fugitives. The Italian militia is being mobilized and is proceeding to Naples to offer any possible assistance to the stricken people.

The King and Queen of Italy have been touring the city endeavoring to tranquilize the people.

A train going towards Naples along the coast was unable to make headway against the mass of cinders and was brought to a standstill. The passengers sought relief by plunging into the sea.

A dispatch from Torro Annunziata received here today states that the flow from Mount Vesuvius toward that town has ceased and that all danger of engulfment has passed.

The devastation wrought by the eruption has been so widespread that 50,000 are estimated to have been made homeless. A dozen villages have been wiped out and 2,000 acres of vineyards, olive groves and farm land have been destroyed.

The eruption is growing worse every hour, and, as a consequence, a state of panic prevails throughout the surrounding country. Thousands of persons have joined the refugees who are leaving the vicinity of the volcano. The heavy fall of ashes and dust makes living so unpleasant that many of the better classes living in this city and other towns, who were in no actual danger from the eruption, are departing for some other place until the volcano's activity shall cease, and the air has become cleared.

Some of the refugees who have reached here had narrow escapes from being caught in the flow of lava, and they tell awful stories of the hardships and sufferings of the fleeing peasants and villagers. Earthquakes have added to the horror of the situation.

From the stories told by refugees reaching the city, of persons who lost their lives during the eruption, it is evident that at least fifty deaths have occurred. In many cases these unfortunates became the victims of the darkness and the smoke and ashes pouring from the craters. Driven from their home by the approaching lava or the earthquakes accompanying the eruption, they lost their way in the mountains and perished.

A story is brough from Ottanjo that a number of school children were driven from the school house near that town and lost their way. Three were picked up, but none of the others have been heard from.

In another town a church in which a crowd had collected to pray, collapsed. Thirty bodies have been recovered from the ruins. Nearly every body of refugees reaching here brings some similar report of the finding of bodies in ruined houses or of persons believed to have become hopelessly lost in the mountains.

Rome, April 9.—The latest news received here in regard to the eruption of Mount Vesuvius is to the effect that the volcano has suddenly moderated. The showers of ashes which have been falling for several days have ceased. Advices from Naples say there are 150,000 refugees in that city.

Many tourists who are in the city have been forced to remain here, as the roads to the north and east are impassable. The price of provisions has trebled on account of the demands for food to feed the increased number of persons now here.

London, April 9.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Naples says that King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena had a narrow escape as they were on their way to that city. Immediately after the royal train had passed a dangerous point on the road, near the volcano, the line was blocked by the fall of ashes and cinders, following a tremendous explosion.

Reports received from surrounding villages are now more encouraging, except those from Terre Annuziata, where a cemetery containing the graves of a number of notable persons had been completely obliterated by the flow of lava.

Adjourned Until Tomorrow.

New York, April 9.—Many differences have developed among the anthracite operators as to the exact nature and extent of the counter-proposition that is to be made to John Mitchell's proposal for arbitration of the differences of the anthracite field, and after a short meeting this morning of the operators it was decided to request an adjournment of the joint meeting of operators and miners scheduled for this afternoon until tomorrow afternoon in order that the operators might agree upon some form of counter-proposition that would be satisfactory to all the operators. President Baer, of the Reading, and E. B. Thomas of the Lehigh Valley, who is chairman of the operators' scale committee, called John Mitchell up on the telephone shortly before 11 o'clock and requested an adjournment of today's meeting until tomorrow afternoon. This request was granted, and Mr. Mitchell made public the news of the adjournment.

The differences of opinion as to how far the counter proposition should go is not serious, but the situation involving an arbitration of an arbitrated condition, which the miners claim has undergone many changes, is delicate and intricate and affect the divergent views. The independent operators, while holding various opinions, say that any counter-proposition involving arbitration that is satisfactory to the five coal roads will be acceptable to them.

There was a strong feeling this morning that a satisfactory solution would be reached by the operators and miners, though there would doubtless be several more meetings before a settlement can be concluded. It is the disposition though of Mr. Mitchell to hurry matters as fast as it is possible, so that a convention of mine workers may be called to ratify the miners' and operators' agreement and an order issued declaring the present suspension of work off.

Downfall of Dowie.

San Antonio, Tex., April 9.—John Alexander Dowie is today an exemplification of the mighty fallen. Once leading men by the sheer force of a dominant personality, the former Czar of Zion's treasury and industries that sits weakly in a hotel room today and curses his downfall, is not the Dowie who swayed thousands. Never physically imposing, Dowie today seems shrivelled. His overseer says the desertion of his wife and son have shriveled his soul and Dowie's body seems to have withered with it. His face in repose is subdued like that of a man beaten and the flesh is not a ruddy hue. His shoulders droop pathetically, and his eyes, when women sympathizing approach him, are appealing. It is only when talking of his wrongs, of the men, who, wishing that his mantle fall upon them, that the old fierce assertiveness is seen.

Then as one arising from a lethargy and drawing from the forces of an unconquerable will, he breaks out in bitter denunciation of Overseers Voliva, Grabner, his son and wife, and those who have fostered the revolution against the first Apostle's rule. In public Dowie speaks bravely and looks brave, but his words have a hollow ring and his bravery is but a cloak. When met at the station here by fifty members of the Zion church he wept. He heard the first kind words that have been spoken since his trip to Mexico, save, of course, the cheering and friendly utterances of the members of his travelling party. "God bless his dear old face," sang one enthusiast, and the first Apostle hung his head and tears rove their way to the venerable beard.

Today the first impression of Dowie is that of a beard, then one sees a face, a small-wasted body and then more beard. First and last it is the shaggy beard that attracts and holds the attention, and not the eye, the voice or the personality. It may be that sympathy for him will win back the love of Zion's host when he appears in the Tabernacle to denounce the robbers of his power.

Dowie said today that his people, at the sound of his voice, would renounce their false gods and return to him, their true leader. If so it will be because of pity. Though talking of great deeds to come and of his powers, it is plain to all who have seen him that his race is run, that his work is done. And above all, Dowie knows it.

Mutiny on Steamship.

Boston, April 9.—The Houston line steamship Silarius, Capt. R. N. Marshall, arrived from Buenos Ayres and South American ports yesterday bringing a thrilling tale of mutiny which occurred at the outset of the passage. The vessel left Buenos Ayres February 26 for Boston and New York She called at Montevideo, where several hundred head of cattle were taken on board for Para, Brazil. Fifteen cattlemen were shipped, among them nine Italians and Spaniards. It afterwards transpired that these nine men were armed with revolvers and long dangerous knives, and were evidently bent on trouble from the start. The Italians refused to perform their share of the work, leaving it all for the other cattlemen, who were Germans and Englishmen. When the latter remonstrated, the Italians flourished their knives and revolvers. Finally one of the men told the captain of a plot that had been hatched to murder the officers and all the Englishmen on board and afterwards take possession and loot the vessel of everything of value. Measures were at once taken to frustrate the plans of the mutineers. About a dozen of the reliable members of the crew were enlisted and the mutineers were forbidden to come beyond the engine room and the crew were stationed on the dead line with instructions to shoot down any man who attempted to pass forward. When the mutineers found that their plot was known they threatened to murder everybody on board and take possession of the vessel. They kept out of pistol range of the crew, however, but in some remote part of the vessel they fired an accasional shot whenever an officer was seen. Several shots were exchanged, but no one was injured. Captain Marshall at last decided to run for Bahia and when that port was reached, the mutineers were allowed to escape. One by one they slipped overboard and swam ashore. Captain Marshall did not want to suffer the delay which would have followed in capturing the mutineers.

Fatal Shooting Affray.

Paterson, N. J., April 9.—Gaetano Pettinelli, aged 23, was arraigned before Recorder Noonburg this morning charged with murder. He is charged with having shot and killed Angelo Piendo, aged 18, at a late hour last night, in front of 188 Beech street. The men had been playing cards in the afternoon. A young woman is also said to have been one of the causes of the crime. Pettinelli admits the crime, but pleads self-defense and has a bullet wound in his knee, which, he says, was inflicted by the dead man. He pleaded not guilty, and was remanded to jail.

Mr. Rockefeller in New York.

New York, April 9.—John D. Rockefeller emerged from his seclusion at Lakewood for the first time since December 15th today, and came to this city. His whole appearance tended to confirm the rumors that Mr. Rockefeller has been in far from good health since he went into retirment on that date. The reason for Mr. Rockefeller coming to New York is to pay a visit to his recently acquired grandson, John D. Rockefeller III. to whom, since his arrival about a month ago, the grandfather has not been introduced

Fifty-ninth Congress.

Washington, April 9.

SENATE.

When the Senate met today it passed a resolution directing the Secretary of War to survey Long Cove and approaches in Penobscot Bay, Maine.

A bill was passed granting the University of Utah land from the Fort Douglass reservation.

When the railroad rate bill was taken up Mr. McLaurin, of Mississippi, in a speech, advocated the adoption of the Bailey amendment, which prohibits the inferior federal courts suspending the rates fixed by the commission pending an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States by the carrier.

He contended that inasmuch as these courts were the creatures of Congress, they could constitutionally be limited in their judicial powers, and that they should not be permitted to set aside a law of their creator.

HOUSE.

When the House met today, the Senate amendments to the urgent deficiency appropriation bill were disagreed to, and the measure was sent to conference.

Matters pertaining to the government of the District of Columbia were then considered.

MONDAY EVENING, APRIL 9, 1906.

Local Matters.

Sun and Tide Table.

Sun rises tomorrow at 5:30 a. m. and sets at 6:33 p. m. High water at 8:10 a. m. and 8 38 p. m.

Weather Probabilities.

For this section rain and warmer tonight. Tuesday fair, cooler; increasing southerly winds, becoming northwesterly and brisk to high.

Palm Sunday.

Palm Sunday, one of the most solemn feasts of the church year, was celebrated yesterday. It is the day commemorating the triumphal entry of Christ into Jerusalem, when for the first time he was proclaimed king, and when the inhabitants of the city went forth to meet him waving palms and strewing his way with palm branches. The day was fittingly observed in the Catholic, Episcopal and Lutheran churches yesterday. The weather was fair. The sun at times was overcast by clouds, but when it did shine it had an agreeable warmth, and a light breeze from the southward produced a condition that made walking a pleasure.

At St. Mary's church palms were given out, and the churchgoers that wended their way homeward after service bore them either in their hands or pinned to their clothes, making a pretty picture as they walked along.

In most of the churches there was special music, and in all of them the sermons were on appropriate subjects. "The Palms" was sung in several of the churches

As the churchgoes walked to and from the churches, promenading along the principal thoroughfares of the city, the streets presented an animated scene. Many spring clothes and hats were in evidence.

M. E. Church South.

Large congregations attended the morning and night services in the M. E. Church South, which were conducted by Rev. J. P. Stump, who completed his term of four years as pastor of that church. He delivered two fine sermons, which were listened to attentively. Mr. Stump, accompanied by his family, will leave tomorrow for Luray, his new charge. Rev. Charles D. Bulla, who will succeed Mr. Stump, is expected to arrive here this week.

Rev. Mr. Bulla preached his farewell sermon last night as pastor of Braddock Street Church, of Winchester, where he has been pastor for four years. An unusually large congregation attended. The church there has progressed rapidly during his pastorate, and a $10,000 Sunday-school building, the first of the kind in the Baltimore Conference, was erected. Rev. Mr. Bulla was presented with a purse containing over $50 in gold on behalf of the citizens by Presiding Elder W. H. D. Harper. Rev. D. H. Kern, formerly pastor of the church in Alexandria, will succeed Mr. Bulla in Winchester.

T. P. A.

A meeting of Alexandria Post, Travelers' Protective Association, was held Saturday night, at which the following officers were elected: President T. C. Howard, Vice President, H. K. Field; secretary and treasurer, Harry Hammond; Chaplain, Rev. Edgar Carpenter; post surgeon and physician, Dr. W. M. Smith. The following were appointed chairmen of committees: Railroads, A. D. Brockett; legislation, C. B. Marshall; press, O. H. Kirk; hotels, Raymond Hulfish; employment, W. A. Smoot, jr. The following were elected delegates to the State Convention T. P. A. which meets in Richmond May 11: E. P. Taylor, R. F. Downham, C. B Marshall, F. J. Paff, H. K. Field, W. W. Ballenger, A. H. Thomson, jr., Raymond Hulfish, Geo. W Hulfish, Walter Rogers, O. H. Kirk, and J. H. Trimyer. The following compose the board: H. Kirk, jr., Walter Rogers, R. F. Downham, W. A. Smoot, jr., A. H. Thomson, jr., and J W. Hammond.

Fined Ten Dollars Each.

Considerable excitement was caused shortly after 12 o'clock last Saturday night by screams from a house in the extreme northern section of the city, and when the police made an investigation they discovered that a fight had occurred between Ernest Hall and George Baker. Officers Lyles, Garvey, Bell and Mayhugh arrested the parties and they were arraigned in the Police Court this morning. Hall in his statement said Baker attacked him for making a pleasant remark by which no offense was intended, but Baker alleged that Hall had made insolent observations concerning him. Justice Caton fined the parties $10 each.

Fined for Playing With a Knife.

William Moore, colored, was arrested yesterday by Officers Bell and Mayhugh charged with assaulting Rose Johnson, also colored, with a knife. The woman was cut on the side and had to seek surgical aid. This morning she appeared at the station house and when placed on the stand acknowledged that Moore cut her, but alleged that he was playing at the time and that the injury she received was accidental. Justice Caton, as a warning to others who may be tempted to play with knives, fined Moore $10.

Anniversary of Surrender.

Today is the 41st anniversary of the surrender by General Robert E. Lee of the Army of Northern Virginia. Alexandria was the scene of considerable extravagant hilarity that day on the part of federal soldiers and those hostile to the Southern Confederacy. All the bells on fire engines houses were rung during the greater portion of the day, one having been cracked on the occasion.

Police Commissioners.

An adjourned meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners will be held tonight for the purpose of formulating plans by which the efficiency of the police force can be increased. As has been stated, Mayor Paff at a meeting last Friday night suggested certain changes in the working of the force, and it is said to be the intention of the commissioners to bring about a new regime.

Address Tonight.

Mr. Clarence E. Fowler, of Washington, will deliver an address in the hall over the Alexandria National Bank tonight at 7:45 o'clock. He will deal with the prophetical portion of the Bible, and endeavor to interest his hearers in some of the forecasts set forth in the scriptures.

Police Court.

[Justice R. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Dennis Washington, colored, arrested by Officer Lyles charged with drunken and disorderly conduct, forfeited his collateral by failing to appear.

George Wood, colored, arrested by Officers Arrington and Young for being drunk in the street, was dismissed.

A white man, arrested by Officers Gill, Mayhugh and Bell charged with a similar offense, was dismissed.

Ernest Hall and George Baker, arrested by Officers Lyles, Garvey, Bell and Mayhugh charged with disorderly conduct and fighting, were fined $10 each.

William Moore, colored, arrested by Officers Bell and Mayhugh with assaulting and cutting Rose Johnson, also colored, was fined $10

Clarence Anderson and Carrie Evans, both colored, arrested by Officer Beach charged with disorderly conduct and fighting, were fined $5 each.

Corporation Court.

[Judge L. C. Barley presiding.]

The docket was called and cases set for hearing:

Commonwealth vs. Clarence Hanson and Hildreth Bush for breaking and entering the store of Mr. B. Abramson; pleas of guilty and each given four years in the penitentiary.

The Consolidated Quarry Co. vs. James McCuen; dismissed agreed.

Commonwealth vs. Thos. Alexander; attempt to break and enter the store of Washington N. Jackson; plea of guilty and prisoner sentenced to one year in jail.

U. G. Winston vs. James McCuen; suit in regard to raising tug "Spray;" jury and case in progress.

Personal.

Rev. J. H. S. Ewell, of this city, was elected one of the secretaries of the M. P. Church Conference now in session in West Baltimore.

Councilman J. Y. Williams has gone to Atlantic City, where he hopes to regain his health.

Judge J. K. M. Norton is in Danville on legal business

Miss Marion Beale Peyton, who has been the guest of her aunt, Mrs. M. C. Peyton, has returned to her home in Charlottesville

Mrs. Thomas Monroe Elliott has issued invitations to the wedding of her daughter, Mary Hunter, and Mr. Frederick Lemuel Buckalew, of Jamesburg, N. J., to take place Saturday evening, April 28, at St. Margaret's Church, Washington. Among the bridesmaids will be Miss Emily Elliott, of this city, a cousin of the bride.

Case Continued.

In the Corporation Court today the matter of the rule against the Mayor and City Council for them to show cause why the city jail should not be enlarged and put in better condition for the accommodation of prisoners came up. Mr. S. G. Brent appeared for the State and City Attorney S. P. Fisher for the city. The latter moved for a continuance of the case generally, but this was contested by Mr. Brent, who held that the matter had been before the court for some time and action should be taken. Judge Barley then entered an order requiring the Mayor and City Council to file an answer on the first day of the May term.

Runaway.

About 11 o'clock yesterday morning a horse attached to a buggy in which were two colored men took fright at a boy carrying a bundle, shied and made a sudden turn at the corner of Columbus and Cameron streets, overturning the buggy, and throwing the occupants to the ground, one of whom received several cuts on the hand, and one under the eye. The driver, Ed Green's, presence of mind and nerve in holding the reins with the buggy resting upside down upon him prevented further damage.

St. Paul's Church.

During the past few months the congregation of St. Paul's Church has attended services in the parish hall on account of extensive repairs that were in progress in the church proper. These improvements which include a recast chancel and a handsome pipe organ, that will occupy an alcove in the chancel, have practically been completed, and the Easter services will be held in the church next Sunday The improvements in the church will, it is said, cost about $10,000.

Assaulted His Wife.

John Jackson, a colored man, feloniously assaulted his wife near Mount Vernon yesterday Mr. Monroe, who lives in the neighborhood, last night telephoned to Lieutenant Smith to look out for Jackson, who, it is believed, came toward this city. Officers boarded several north bound electric trains, but were unable to find the object of their search. It is said that one of the woman's eyes was knocked out. Jackson was recently arrested by Constable A. J. Payne, of Fairfax, for an offense

Jewish Passover.

The Israelites of this city will assemble in their synagogue on north Washington street at 7:30 o'clock tonight for the purpose of conducting services appropriate to the Passover season. Services will also be held in the Synagogue next Sunday night at the same hour.

Death of Mrs. Igoe.

Mrs. Elizabeth Igoe, wife of Mr. M. Igoe, died at her home southwest corner of Duke and Patrick streets, at 11:15 o'clock this morning. The deceased leaves several children.

W. C. T. U.

There will be a lecture at the Baptist Church Tuesday evening, April 10. Subject, "Short Stories and Life Sketches," told by one who knows how and illustrated by 30 pictures. A collection will be taken for a good cause. We hope to have a large attendance. Will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

Explosion on a Launch.

The alarm of fire which was sounded between eleven and twelve o'clock today was caused by the explosion of a gasoline tank on a launch at the shipyard. The boat was seriously damaged before the flames were subdued. Two men were engaged in filling the tank when the explosion occurred. One of them was painfully burned on the arms.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The regular meeting of the Elks will be held tonight.

Mrs Edward P. Robinson in stepping from an electric train at King and Fayette streets yesterday evening fell and was painfully injured.

Victor Edsworth was arrested this afternoon by Officer Roberts charged with throwing a beer bottle in a saloon in the southern section of the city.

Rain began to fall at the close of yesterday and continued at intervals during the night. There have at times been heavy downpours during the today.

Cars of the electric railway run on the new parallel tracks to the new bridge across the Potomac yesterday. Heretofore north bound trains have used a temporary track some distance east of the tracks used by south bound trains.

The receipts of fresh fish show a slight increase. But few, however, have so far been caught in fresh water. The receipts are mainly from the river. A vessel carrying fish arrived at Fishtown yesterday from Washington.

The report of the Maryland Society of Colonial Dames shows that a donation was made during the year to the society for the Carlyle House in this city

It is said that the Virginia Glass Company's plant, in West End, which has been idle for nearly two years, or since it was rebuilt after the fire, will soon be in operation again.

In their second game this season, the Episcopal High School team, of Alexandria, was defeated by Locustdale Academy Saturday by a score of 8 to 7.

The early church services this morning were not very largely attended, the rain interfering.

WHEN SHALL THESE THINGS BE?

The world of thoughtless persons conclude that there is no answer to the question put by the disciples of the Lord Jesus Christ concerning the end of the world. Yet the answer given is the most complete and explicit in all the Scriptures and to the Christian given by the highest authority. In the last of the series of Talks on Truth-Full Topics, Mr. Clarence E. Fowler, of Washington, D. C., will present the times and seasons of the Bible in a logical, lucid and reasonable manner, powerfully impressive to either skeptic or Christian. The address will be delivered without any charge on Monday night, April 9, at 7:45, in the hall over the Alexandria National Bank. Everyone is welcome.

WASHING WITHOUT WATER

Is Like Trying to Get Rid of Dandruff Without Herpicide.

Did you ever see any one trying to wash themselves without soap or water?

If you did what would you say of him?

It is every bit as foolish to try to get rid of Dandruff and to prevent Baldness by feeding the germs which cause it, with Canthrarides, Vaseline, Glycerine and similar substances which form the principal ingredients of most so-called Hair Vigors.

Newbro's Herpicide is successful because it attacks and kills the parasitic germ which feeds on the hair roots.

It is the original and only genuine scalp germicide manufactured.

Beat His Wife to Death.

While drunk yesterday morning in Baltimore, John Kennedy beat his wife Maggie in a terrible manner. A policeman found the woman dead on a couch and her husband in a stupor on a table in their home, 1566 Ridgely street. The woman had no clothing on when found, except about one-half of a skirt and a shawl wrapped around her shoulders. She was thirty-four years old and in a delicate state of health, for two weeks having been confined to bed. The general appearance of the second floor at the house indicated that a struggle took place in every room. In an examination made by Coroner Jones it was found that the woman's body was literally covered with bruises and welts. It was impossible to tell just what had caused her death, and for this reason the coroner decided on a post-mortem examination today. Kennedy, after being arrested, said: "I hit her, and I am sorry for it, I wouldn't have done what I have for anything in the world. When I came home Saturday night Maggie was in bed. She has been sick for two weeks. Yesterday morning I went in to eat my breakfast, and I don't remember much else that happened. I hit her several times with my fists, and finally knocked her down. She fell on a sofa and lay there still. After that I don't know what I did." John Kennedy, the couple's little boy, told a pathetic story of how he tried to prevent his father striking his mother. He said his papa had been drunk all the time of late.

Operation on Wife Kills Him.

While Mrs. Emil F. Neuman, of Bensonhurst, N. Y., sank into a stupor under the influence of an anaesthetic, preparatory to a Caesarian operation, Friday afternoon, her anxious husband stood by her bedside tenderly stroking her hand. There were four doctors and two trained nurses in the room when the operation began. Neuman, who had been up with his wife for three nights, suddenly uttered a muffled cry and fell dead on the bed across his wife's form. While the body of Neuman was removed to another room, the surgeons proceeded with the operation upon Mrs. Neuman and a 10-pound baby was brought into the world. When Mrs. Neuman became conscious she became so hysterical at the evasive answers as to her husband's whereabouts that it became necessary to break the news of his death to her. The physicians say that Mrs. Neuman would probably die. Her baby has every chance of living.

Swear Fealty to Voliva.

With the approval of thousands of Dowieites, in open meeting yesterday, at Zion City, Ill., General Overseer Glenn Voliva denounced John Alexander Dowie as a spendthrift, liar and traitor, and was in turn promised support as leader of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, to fill the place of the founder of the church, now deposed and on his way from Mexico to fight for his rights.

When, after denouncing Dowie, Overseer Voliva suddenly demanded a decision of the audience which crowded Shiloh Tabernacle as to who should be their future leader, the 6,000 persons in the auditorium rose as one person and signified their willingness to follow Voliva to the end.

Can you believe your senses?

When two of them, taste and smell, having been impaired if not utterly destroyed, by Nasal Catarrh, are fully restored by Ely's Cream Balm, can you doubt that this remedy deserves all that has been said of it by the thousands whom it has cured? It is applied directly to the affected air passages and begins its healing work at once. Why not get it today? A Young Mother of 70.

"My mother has suddenly been made young at 70. Twenty years of intense suffering from dyspepsia had entirely disabled her, until six months ago, when she began taking Electric Bitters, which have completely cured her and restored the strength and activity she had in the prime of life," writes Mrs. W. L. Gilpatrick, of Danforth, Me. Greatest restorative medicine on the globe. Sets Stomach, Liver and Kidneys right, purifies the blood and cures Malaria, Biliousness and Weaknesses. About Rheumatism.

There are few diseases that inflict more torture than rheumatism and there is probably no disease for which such a varied and useless lot of remedies have been suggested. To say that it can be cured is, therefore, a bold statement to make, but Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which enjoys an extensive sale, has met with great success in the treatment of this disease. One application of Pain Balm will relieve the pain, and hundreds of sufferers have testified to permanent cures by its use. Why suffer when Pain Balm affords such quick relief and costs but a trifle? For sale by Gibson and Timberman and W. F. Creighton and Company.

WHO SHE WAS

SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF LYDIA E. PINKHAM

And a True Story of How the Vegetable Compound Had Its Birth and How the "Panic of '73" Caused it to be Offered for Public Sale in Drug Stores.

This remarkable woman, whose maiden name was Estes, was born in Lynn, Mass., February 9th, 1819, coming from a good old Quaker family. For some years she taught school, and became known as a woman of an alert and investigating mind, an earnest seeker after knowledge, and above all, possessed of a wonderfully sympathetic nature.

In 1843 she married Isaac Pinkham, a builder and real estate operator, and their early married life was marked by prosperity and happiness. They had four children, three sons and a daughter.

In those good old fashioned days it was common for mothers to make their own home medicines from roots and herbs, nature's own remedies—calling in a physician only in specially urgent cases. By tradition and experience many of them gained a wonderful knowledge of the curative properties of the various roots and herbs.

Mrs. Pinkham took a great interest in the study of roots and herbs, their characteristics and power over disease. She maintained that just as nature so bountifully provides in the harvest-fields and orchards vegetable foods of all kinds; so, if we but take the pains to find them, in the roots and herbs of the field there are remedies expressly designed to cure the various ills and weaknesses of the body, and it was her pleasure to search these out, and prepare simple and effective medicines for her own family and friends.

Chief of these was a rare combination of the choicest medicinal roots and herbs found best adapted for the cure of the ills and weaknesses peculiar to the female sex, and Lydia E. Pinkham's friends and neighbors learned that her compound relieved and cured and it became quite popular among them.

All this so far was done freely, without money and without price, as a labor of love.

But in 1873 the financial crisis struck Lynn. Its length and severity were too much for the large real estate interests of the Pinkham family, as this class of business suffered most from fearful depression, so when the Centennial year dawned it found their property swept away. Some other source of income had to be found.

At this point Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was made known to the world.

The three sons and the daughter, with their mother, combined forces to restore the family fortune. They argued that the medicine which was so good for their woman friends and neighbors was equally good for the women of the whole world.

The Pinkhams had no money, and little credit. Their first laboratory was the kitchen, where roots and herbs were steeped on the stove, gradually filling a gross of bottles. Then came the question of selling it, for always before they had given it away freely. They hired a job printer to run off some pamphlets setting forth the merits of the medicine, now called Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and these were distributed by the Pinkham sons in Boston, New York, and Brooklyn.

The wonderful curative properties of the medicine were, to a great extent, self-advertising, for whoever used it recommended it to others, and the demand gradually increased.

In 1877, by combined efforts the family had saved enough money to commence newspaper advertising and from that time the growth and success of the enterprise were assured, until today Lydia E Pinkham and her Vegetable Compound have become household words everywhere, and many tons of roots and herbs are used annually in its manufacture.

Lydia E. Pinkham herself did not live to see the great success of this work. She passed to her reward years ago, but not till she had provided means for continuing her work as effectively as she could have done it herself.

During her long and eventful experience she was ever methodical in her work and she was always careful to preserve a record of every case that came to her attention. The case of every sick woman who applied to her for advice—and there were thousands—received careful study, and the details, including symptoms, treatment and results were recorded for future reference, and to-day these records, together with hundreds of thousands made since, are available to sick women the world over, and represent a vast collaboration of information regarding the treatment of woman's ills, which for authenticity and accuracy can hardly be equaled in any library in the world.

With Lydia E. Pinkham worked her daughter-in-law, the present Mrs. Pinkham. She was carefully instructed in all her hard-won knowledge, and for years she assisted her in her vast correspondence.

To her hands naturally fell the direction of the work when its originator passed away. For nearly twenty-five years she has continued it, and nothing in the work shows when the first Lydia E. Pinkham dropped her pen, and the present Mrs. Pinkham, now the mother of a large family, took it up. With women assistants, some as capable as herself, the present Mrs. Pinkham continues this great work, and probably from the office of no other person have so many women been advised how to regain health. Sick women, this advice is "Yours for Health" freely given if you only write to ask for it.

Such is the history of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; made from simple roots and herbs; the one great medicine for women's ailments, and the fitting monument to the noble woman whose name it bears.
